(A rainy day at the vineyard)

Vineyard & Winery Work

Vineyard & Winery News... Harvest is complete! All the grapes are in, pressed, and in barrels; primary fermentations are complete and malolactic fermentations are well on their way. The vineyard is trying to sleep but awaiting our first frost, which is Mother Nature's communication to the vines that it's time to sleep... then pruning begins! In the meantime, we haven't had much rain so Todd has been able to get in the vineyard and do some mechanical weeding in the vine rows. The big rains will be here soon, and once they arrive Todd will not be allowed in the vineyard as he would sink up to his axels!

Team News... Juan and Raymond continue to work hard with all things vineyard and winery. There's always much to do - deep cleaning the winery and cave, all the tanks and harvest equipment and getting everything covered and ready for winter. Juan has been busy topping the wines and helping Sarah organize some of the inventory as well. They have done an amazing job over the past several months and we remain grateful for their commitment and pride in their hard work; it shows everyday!

Notes from Sarah & Todd

Sarah & Todd... Wow, November truly zoomed by—just like the rest of this whirlwind year! It's hard to believe we've already stepped into December and Christmas is only about 20 days away. We're definitely not quite ready... lol!

November was packed with travel, wine events, tastings, and two fantastic Pop-Up Parties—one in Boca Raton, Florida, and our annual UP Pop-Up with the Beacon House in Marquette, Michigan. The month kicked off with a quick but wonderful trip to Florida, where we reconnected with Club members and enjoyed friends and some relaxed family time. Noah flew in from New York and Jordan came in from Boston, and we enjoyed a mostly laid-back weekend filled with delicious restaurants and some much-needed downtime together. Noah even made a killer breakfast for all of us one morning!

Back in Napa, Julia held down the fort at the winery and at home, managing tastings and absolutely knocking it out of the park—so much so that we weren't entirely ready to send her back to Omaha to school!

As mentioned before, we have several new wines coming, and a new Club that will launch in January 2026, along with some other exciting changes... so lots of news yet to come! We are thrilled to be nominated for the Napa Valley 2026 Best of Awards in three categories and hope you'll all VOTE and do so often over the next eight weeks. We love what we do and hope our passion translates into everything we have to offer, from crafting world class wines to giving all of you the best experiences possible, whether on the phone, in person or on Todd's Friday Fun Virtual Tastings. Thank you all so much for your friendship, continued support and love of our wines!

Cheers to all of you and a bountiful harvest!
